While the dates may vary slightly (as they are based on the current year's schedule) they should fall within only a few days of the dates provided above. Rates do not include tax (which may run upwards of 11% to 13%) and are based on double occupancy only. While children under 17 stay free in the same room with their parents, there may be an additional charge if you have more than 2 adults in your party (this however depends upon the resort and the type of room you choose).
